1Q26 booked a record high quarterly revenue of KRW134trn (+43% q-q) and operating profit of KRW57trn (+185% q-q) thanks to memory super-cycle. ASP of DRAM/NAND surged by low-90%/ high-80% q-q while bit shipment was up single digit q-q due to supply constraints. We lift EPS by 81%/ 33%/ 15% for 2026E/ 27E/ 28E mainly on high memory prices. We raise TP to KRW300,000, using SOTP valuation (unchanged method), which implies 2027E P/E / P/B of 8.5x/2.1x.

Non-HBM margin surprised in 1Q; new products rolling out

Conventional DRAM margins exceeded HBM in 1Q26 as quarterly contracts captured price hike faster than annual contracts for HBM in supply constraints. Samsung shall benefit more with high conventional DRAM exposure before the gap narrows in 2027. It continues to lead memory tech, with sample shipment or qualification process start for HBM4E, SOCAMM2, PCIe Gen6 SSD etc. from 2Q.

Foundry strengthening by advanced nodes and overseas fab ramping-up

Samsung's Foundry revenue posted >10% y-y growth in 1Q and secured a key silicon photonics project. We expect the Foundry business to break even in early 2027, driven by (1. high utilisation of 4nm node from high demand for HBM4 base dies, and ramp-up of memory products and LPU; and (2. mass production of Gen2 2nm mobile product in 2H26. Longer term, we expect 2nm mass production at Taylor Fab to effectively expand the US client base and boost margin from 2028E.

Reclaim no.1 in global smartphone market while margin to deteriorate

Despite global smartphone market contraction from seasonality and cost inflation, MX division grew q-q in rev and operating profit, thanks to the higher ASP from newly launched flagship S26 series and high-end "Ultra" model. A secured memory supply supported Samsung to reclaim global no.1 in smartphone shipment, gaining share from Chinese players. But we remain cautious that smartphone margin will decline sequentially from 2Q until the memory cycle moderates from early 2027E.

Key takeaways from SK Hynix 1Q26 results briefing

1Q26 snapshot:

Memory: DRAM bit growth met guidance of low-single digit q-q. NAND exceeded bit shipment guidance (mid-single digit q-q) with growth of high-single digit q-q. Server DRAM bit shipment grew in low-teens q-q, and NAND bit shipments grew in the low-20% range q-q. Blended ASP for DRAM/NAND rose by low-90%/high-80% q-q.

System LSI: 1Q earnings improved q-q thanks to expanded sales of flagship SoC.

MX: MX secured single-digit profitability growth q-q by offsetting rising memory component costs with proactive resource efficiency.

SDC: 1Q performance declined q-q due to seasonality and the downstream impact of high memory price pressure on smartphone OEMs. Large displays remained stable, supported by gaming monitor demand.

VD & DA: 1Q TV demand declined post-holidays, though premium segments (Neo QLED, OLED) held firm. Operating profit improved q-q but fell y-y due to stagnant demand and rising raw material costs.

Outlook

Memory: 2Q bit growth will be single-digit q-q for DRAM and constrained to low-single-digits for NAND due to tight 1Q inventory.

Foundry: the Taylor Fab has completed equipment move-in, targeting operations in 2026 and mass production in 2027. Uncompetitive mature 8-inch lines are being aggressively phased out, transitioning capacity to 17nm nodes for high-barrier specialty demand.

System LSI: 2Q revenue is expected to dip on seasonal headwinds. In 2H26, the division aims to secure new design wins for Exynos 2700, reinforce its 200 megapixel image sensor lineup, and strategically pivot toward specialized inference solutions and custom SoC for AI data centers and on-device applications.

MX: 2Q revenue and profitability will decline q-q as seasonality sets in and component cost pressures intensify. For 2H26, while total shipment is expected to drop due to rising costs, MX projects revenue growth by pushing its super-premium products, expanding Galaxy AI features, and exploring new multi-modal form factors (e.g., AI glasses).

SDC: 2Q IT demand will remain weak. In 2H26, Samsung will defend profitability through premium smartphone technology and accelerate revenue growth through the ramp-up of Gen 8.6 IT OLED line.

VD & DA: 2Q demand will be buoyed by major international sporting events via products such as new Micro LED and Mini LED launches. In 2H26, VD aims to pioneer the AI TV market and expand high-margin advertising/ licensing services. DA is restructuring for profitability and officially entering the high-growth data center cooling market following its acquisition of FlaktGroup, with plans for North American and Korean expansion.

Capex: KRW11.2trn was spent in 1Q, with KRW10.2 to DS and KRW0.6trn to display division. Samsung anticipates a substantial y-y increase in 2026 Capex to deploy new cleanroom capacity and support Taylor Fab ramp-ups. Over KRW110trn is planned for future facilities and R&D.

We raise TP to KRW300,000

We raised Samsung EPS forecasts by 81%/ 33%/ 15% for 2026E/27E/28E primarily on higher memory price. Given the continuous supply constraints on both high price HBM and conventional memory, Samsung shall benefit more with high exposure to conventional DRAM before the gap narrows in 2027 as it remains the largest supplier of both DRAM and NAND. We lift ASP forecast of DRAM and NAND for Samsung by 66%/ 30%/ 19% and 59%/ 20%/ flat in 2026E/27E/28E. Margin of DRAM and NAND thus go up by 15pp/ 8pp/ 6pp and 16pp/ 5pp/ flat accordingly, and memory contributes to nearly 90% operating profit, in line with historical trend of memory upcycles.

We arrive at our new TP by using SOTP, an EV/EBITDA valuation method for each business division and applying a 10% conglomerate discount (unchanged). We use 17x/ 3.6x/ 17.6x/ 4.9x 2027 EV/EBITDA multiples for Samsung's DX & Harman/ memory/ non-memory DS/ SDC division (vs prev 15.8x/ 5.2x/ 13.1x/ 5.0x respectively). Our new TP of KRW300,000 implies 2027 P/E at 8.6x (vs prev 10.6x) and P/B at 2.1x (vs prev. 2.3x).

Investment case, valuation and risks

Samsung Electronics (Outperform, Target Price KRW300,000)

Investment case

We expect SEC's share in the HBM market to expand from 18% in 2025 to c25% in 2026 and beyond, aided by an expanding client base, its bold move to advanced technologies and synergies with its internal Foundry business. As a result, we forecast the memory business to contribute 87%/86% of SEC's 2026E/2027E OP, with OPM expansion to 52%/50%.

As the second-largest foundry player globally, along with improving leading-edge yield and advanced packaging solutions, SEC is strategically well positioned to grab AI chip demand by offering reliable products at competitive prices. Per our estimates, SEC's Foundry OP is positioned to turn positive in 2027E, driven by high-teens CAGR for both wafer shipments and ASP.

Valuation methodology

We use an SOTP as the primary valuation method to reflect the fundamentally distinct growth trajectories, cyclicalities and margin structure of SEC's disparate operating divisions, and adopt an EV/EBITDA valuation methodology for each segment to effectively neutralize the impact of significant variations in capital intensity across the divisions. Therefore, we derive our TP of KRW300,000, implies 2027E P/E at 8.5x and P/B at 2.1x.

In addition, we cross check the valuation with P/B-ROE method, as the P/B-ROE method reflects how balance sheet strength and capital intensity drive value creation in SEC's memory business through cycles. We use a beta of 1.5x and the 10-year government bond yield of 3.7% as the risk-free rate to calculate our cost of equity assumption of 13.3% and consequently our target P/B of 2.1x. The resulting TP is KRW300,000.

Risks

To the upside:

1) Smooth and in-time new product development; 2) Memory industry cyclical upturns; 3) Mild market competition; 4) Fewer geopolitical conflicts; 5) Fewer foreign exchange risks

To the downside:

1) Rough and delayed new product development; 2) Memory industry cyclical downturns; 3) Fierce market competition; 4) Escalated geopolitical conflicts; 5) More foreign exchange risks

Our coverage analysts use a rating system in which they rate stocks as Outperform, Neutral, or Underperform (as defined below) relative to other companies covered by the analyst or the analyst's team, over a 12-month investment horizon.

Outperform (O/P): The stock is expected to outperform the average total return of all companies covered by the analyst or the analyst's team, over a 12-month investment horizon.

Neutral: The stock is expected to perform in line with the average total return of all companies covered by the analyst or the analyst's team, over a 12-month investment horizon.

Underperform (U/P): The stock is expected to underperform the average total return of all companies covered by the analyst or the analyst's team, over a 12-month investment horizon.

Under review: The rating of the stock has been placed under review after significant news. Any possible change will be confirmed as soon as possible in the form of a new broadly disseminated report.

Restricted (RS): The stock is covered by BNPP but there is no Rating and no Target Price because BNPP is involved in an equity capital market/ merger and acquisition transaction relating to the subject company.

Not Rated (NR): The stock is covered by BNPP but there is no Rating and no Target Price at this time.

Not Covered (NC): BNPP does not cover this company

As of 23 September 2024, TEB Investment has changed the recommendation rating structure for Turkish stock coverage from Buy, Hold and Reduce to Outperform, Neutral and Underperform. Ratings and target prices for dates prior to 23 September 2024 used an absolute rating structure whereby the upside or downside to target price relative to the current share price determined the recommendation. TEB Investment now uses a relative recommendation structure whereby the applied rating is based on the stock's expected performance as compared to the average total return of all companies covered by the analyst or the analyst's team in Turkish stock coverage over a 12-month investment horizon. TEB Investment research reports with ratings and target prices for dates prior to 11 August 2025 were prepared and distributed without involvement of a FINRA member firm.

ESG Rating Explanation and Methodology

ESG integration methodology: The BNP Paribas approach offers an alternative to mechanistic ESG scores and leverages the in-depth knowledge of our industry equity research teams by combining quantitative and qualitative factors. There are three steps to our framework; firstly, our teams build a materiality map to assess which ESG topics are most relevant to their respective industries. Secondly, for the chosen topics, companies are assessed relative to sector peers. The assessment can be based on metrics and qualitative judgements. Each company is given a one to five score per topic, with five being the best. Thirdly, based on the topic scores, and any other significant ESG factors, we identify companies in the sector as ESG Leaders, ESG Laggards or ESG Average. The definition of the ratings is shown below; they are not based on the average topic score as some topic scores can be more material than others.

ESG Leader: Relative to sector peers an ESG Leader is better positioned on the chosen ESG topics, or other relevant ESG considerations.

ESG Average: A company rated as ESG Average may have strong or poor performance on an individual ESG topic, but overall has an average exposure to ESG risks and opportunities.

ESG Laggard: Relative to sector peers an ESG Laggard is poorly positioned on the chosen ESG topics, or other relevant ESG considerations for the stock.

Distribution of BNP Paribas' Equity Recommendations

As at 01 March 2026 BNP Paribas covered 1275 companies. The companies that, for regulatory reasons, are not accorded a rating by BNPP are excluded from these statistics. For regulatory reasons, our ratings of Outperform, Neutral and Underperform correspond respectively to Buy, Hold and Sell; the underlying signification is, however, different as our ratings are relative to the sector.

Ratings	Stocks coverage		Investment Banking Services Within the previous 12 months
	Counts	%*	Counts	%
Outperform (Buy)	645	51	166	26
Neutral (Hold)	428	34	101	24
Underperform (Sell)	202	16	42	21

* Please note that the percentages might not add up to 100% because of rounding.

In addition, exchange rate movements may have an adverse effect on the value of an investment in a non-U.S. stock and its corresponding dividend payment for U.S. investors. If a financial instrument is denominated in a currency other than the investor's home currency, a change in exchange rates may adversely affect the price of, value of, or income derived from the financial instrument described in this report. In addition, investors in securities such as ADRs, whose values are affected by the currency of the underlying security, effectively assume currency risk.
