Building assets for an AI future; Buy

Reiterate Rating: BUY | PO: 835.00 USD | Price: 669.12 USD

Strong 1Q results but growing capex weighs on sentiment

1Q Rev/EPS at $56.3bn/$10.44 beat Street at $55.5bn/$6.68. GAAP OI at $22.9bn above Street at $19.4bn (on lower opex) & EPS benefitted from a 1x tax benefit. 2Q guide at $58.0-$61.0bn (22-28% y/y), in line with Street at $59.5bn and suggests deceleration. However, at high end, 2Q guide suggests 26% ex-FX growth (3pts deceleration on 3pts tougher comp), still well above the ad sector. With stock still a “show-me” story on AI returns, increasing 3P capacity commitments and a $10bn higher capex outlook for 2026 likely weighed on sentiment, and stock was down 7% AH.

Meta is building capacity, Street wants more clarity

Meta is investing even more in capacity for AI capabilities, and reducing headcount to make room for added expenses (not sustainable long-term). This AI investment cycle is proving to be bigger than expected, and returns are less clear vs Cloud providers. We think Meta’s new LLM and growing engagement within the Meta AI app serve as initial proof points of Meta’s AI execution, and that additional product launches later this year (such as agents for messaging, health and shopping) could improve optimism on AI ROI. Meanwhile, the core business continues to put up impressive results, and Meta’s own AI models should drive further improvements

Raising 2027E revenue by 1% and EPS by 2%; PO to $835

After a very impressive 1Q guide last quarter, we are only slightly raising revs. to reflect higher ad monetization, with expenses largely unchanged as lower headcount is offset by higher infra expenses. For 2027E, we raise revenue by 1% to $101bn & EPS by 2% to $34.46. Raise PO to $835 (from $820) on higher '27E EPS & an unchanged 24x multiple.

AI-driven ad gains intact; new products ahead

While only an inline guide (some macro and EU headwinds included), we think results reinforce that AI-driven benefits for the core ad business remain intact and should scale with LLM model improvements. We continue to view Meta as having a strong position with users, with the ability to scale new AI services across its large global user base, and we don’t think AI capacity is a bad investment. At AH price of $622, Meta valued at 18x our revised 2027E EPS (vs historical avg. of 21x), and this includes an est. $11+/share in RL and Gen-AI investment spend. Reiterate Buy.

Company Sector

Internet/e-Commerce

Company Description

Meta Platforms is the largest social network with over 3 billion monthly active users across its properties. The company generates revenue from advertising and payments, with over 95% of revenue from advertising. Meta's revenues are split at rough 50% in North America, and 50% in International markets.

Investment Rationale

Meta is an investment in increasing social and mobile Internet usage, and also offers exposure to the increasing use of AI/ML technology and potential long-term Metaverse opportunity. With the new efficiency mentality, we believe Meta is positioned for strong EPS growth when advertising environment improves.

Q2	7.14A	7.50E
Q3	1.05A	7.25E
Q4	8.88A	8.92E

Thoughts on the stock & 1Q positives/negatives

While Meta's 2Q revenue outlook did not match the upside surprises in previous quarters, we believe Meta's guidance suggests AI-driven benefits for the core ad business remain intact, and continue to scale. At high end, 2Q guide suggests 26% ex-FX growth (3pts deceleration on 3pts tougher comp), still well above the ad sector. We believe new capacity coming online in 2026, along with deeper LLM integration into the ad stack, could drive another step-up in ad performance and help unlock a new wave of incremental ad spend.

Beyond AI-driven gains in engagement and advertiser performance, we see several additional growth drivers in 2026, including ramping monetization of messaging solutions, increased advertising across under-monetized surfaces such as Threads, Meta AI, and Marketplace, new agentic assistant capabilities for users, and the rollout of subscription offerings. Given strong relative growth, we see Meta as attractively valued at a discount to the S&P despite an estimated $11/share in RL and AI investments. Reiterate Buy.

1Q Positives:

- AI integration driving stronger engagement: Management highlighted improvements in AI-powered content recommendations are meaningfully enhancing user experience and time spent on the platform. On Instagram, content recommendation initiatives and ranking improvements in 1Q drove a 10% increase in time spent on Facebook. Total video watch time grew more than 8% globally in 1Q marking the largest q/q gain in four years.
- Business assistants and potentially new revenue streams: Meta's CEO highlighted Meta is building AI assistants to enhance user utility and deepen engagement. We think this could unlock incremental revenue streams across subscription, business messaging, and commerce.
- Outlook for accelerating AI gains in 2026: Management highlighted opportunities to drive accelerating gains in engagement and monetization by incorporating LLMs into the recommendation engine, scaling model complexity and training data, and improving responsiveness to real-time interests to deepen content understanding.
- Focus on profitability & continued cost management: 1Q headcount at 78K was below street estimates at 80.7K. Despite higher capex and capacity commitments, Meta did not change FY26 expense guide of $162-$169bn and reiterated guide to deliver FY26 operating income above 2025 levels

1Q Negatives:

- Outlook for higher capex: Meta increased FY26 capex guide to $125-$145bn (vs $115-$135bn previously and Street $125bn) due to higher component pricing.
- 2Q outlook in line with Street and suggests deceleration: 2Q rev. outlook at $58.0-$61.0bn (22-28% y/y) was in line with Street at $59.5bn. At high end, 2Q guide suggests 26% ex-FX growth (3pts deceleration on 3pts tougher comp).
- Increased regulatory scrutiny on youth issues: Management highlighted increased scrutiny around youth-related issues following the recent adverse verdict and several trials scheduled this year in the US, which could ultimately lead to changes in the business model or lower usage and monetization.
- Limited (or zero) share repurchases: In 1Q, Meta did not repurchase any stock. Given elevated investment spend, we expect limited share repurchases going forward.

- Growing fixed cost base could increase earnings volatility: Meta's fixed cost structure is expanding due to increased investments in AI infrastructure, data centers, etc. With ~98% of revenue still tied to digital advertising and sensitive to macro fluctuations, any slowdown in ad spend could significantly pressure margins and earnings due to more limited fixed cost flexibility.

Potential next catalysts/growth drivers include:

- 1) Launch of new products and features built on top of Muse Spark, driving incremental usage and new monetization surfaces,
- 2) Integration of LLMs into ad stack could drive another step-up in ad performance improvement and help attract incremental ad spend,
- 3) Rollout of subscription services for high value AI use cases,
- 4) Growing adoption of Meta Business AI (fully automated ad campaigns) could lower barriers to ad creation, particularly for SMBs, help unlock incremental ad spend, and support higher growth in 2026,
- 5) Launch of new LLMs with frontier capabilities (expected by year end), which could further accelerate AI product roadmap across consumer AI tools, automated ad solutions, agentic AI assistants, etc., and
- 6) Cost management actions (potential second round of layoffs in 2H) could help drive upside to Street EPS estimates as Meta's current expect trajectory ($33bn in 1Q expenses) is below full year outlook for $162-169bn in total spend.

Risks:

- 1) Intensifying competition for engagement and ad dollars from OpenAI and incumbents could impact 2H'26 growth outlook,
- 2) High dependence on ad revenues and growing fixed cost base due to ramping AI investments, limits flexibility to adjust spending and will amplify earnings volatility in a macro downturn,
- 3) Elevated FCF valuation (with $130bn in capex expected in 2026) and slowing pace of share repurchases with significant AI investments,
- 4) Increasing margin pressure in 2027 from accelerating depreciation expense tied to AI infrastructure buildout, and
- 5) Elevated regulatory overhang from new youth safety cases or unfavorable outcomes in ongoing litigation.

Valuation

At the AH stock price of ~$622, Meta valued at 18x our revised 2027E GAAP EPS estimate (or 15x ex-Reality Labs). We see current valuation as attractive relative to S&P 500 valued at 19x (assuming 2027 EPS of $375) given Meta's large AI opportunity and strong revenue growth rate (well above ad sector). Historically, Meta has traded at an average 3pts premium to S&P 500.

PO Change: We are raising our PO to $835 (from $820) based on 2% higher 2027E GAAP EPS of $34.46 and unchanged 24x multiple.

Estimate Changes

We are slightly raising our revenue estimates to reflect higher ad monetization. Our expense estimates are largely unchanged as lower headcount is offset by higher infrastructure expenses. For 2026E, we raise revenue by 0.2% to $255bn and EPS by 9% to $34.12. For 2027E, we raise revenue by 1% to $101bn and EPS by 2% to $34.46. Current expense trajectory suggests subdued EPS growth in 2027, but additional cost actions could drive lower expenses in 2026.

BofA GLOBAL RESEARCH

Price objective basis & risk

Meta Platforms Inc (META)

Our $835 price objective is based on 24x 2027E GAAP EPS, plus net cash. On a total company basis, including Metaverse investments, our valuation is at a slight premium to S&P 500 given Meta's higher growth rate and AI opportunity. Historically, Meta has traded at an average premium of 3pts to S&P 500.

Downside risks include: 1) Significant dependence on digital advertising revenue, which remain highly sensitive to macroeconomic conditions, 2) Elevated spend on AI initiatives that could negatively impact margins, 3) Growing base of fixed assets could reduce cost flexibility in a macro downturn, 4) Slowing pace of share repurchases with significant AI investments, 5) Intensifying competition for user engagement and advertising budgets from AI-native platforms, and 6) Elevated regulatory overhang from new teen safety cases or unfavorable outcomes in ongoing litigation.

Coverage Universe	Count	Percent	Inv. Banking Relationships ^{R1}	Count	Percent
Buy	1993	55.76%	Buy	1186	59.51%
Hold	821	22.97%	Hold	509	62.00%
Sell	760	21.26%	Sell	400	52.63%

^{R1} Issuers that were investment banking clients of BofA Securities or one of its affiliates within the past 12 months. For purposes of this Investment Rating Distribution, the coverage universe includes only stocks. A stock rated Neutral is included as a Hold, and a stock rated Underperform is included as a Sell.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating	Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating)	Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster ^{R2}
Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

^{R2} Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.

BofA Securities is under no obligation to update this information and BofA Securities ability to publish information on the subject issuer(s) in the future is subject to applicable quiet periods. You should therefore assume that BofA Securities will not update any fact, circumstance or opinion contained herein.

Subject to the quiet period applicable under laws of the various jurisdictions in which we distribute research reports and other legal and BofA Securities policy-related restrictions on the publication of research reports, fundamental equity reports are produced on a regular basis as necessary to keep the investment recommendation current.

Certain outstanding reports or investment opinions relating to securities, financial instruments and/or issuers may no longer be current. Always refer to the most recent research report relating to an issuer prior to making an investment decision.

In some cases, an issuer may be classified as Restricted or may be Under Review or Extended Review. In each case, investors should consider any investment opinion relating to such issuer (or its security and/or financial instruments) to be suspended or withdrawn and should not rely on the analyses and investment opinion(s) pertaining to such issuer (or its securities and/or financial instruments) nor should the analyses or opinion(s) be considered a solicitation of any kind. Sales persons and financial advisors affiliated with BofAS or any of its affiliates may not solicit purchases of securities or financial instruments that are Restricted or Under Review and may only solicit securities under Extended Review in accordance with firm policies.

Neither BofA Securities nor any officer or employee of BofA Securities accepts any liability whatsoever for any direct, indirect or consequential damages or losses arising from any use of this information.
